Millennia shift

Tick, tock, swing, sway;
back and forth, night and day;

up and down, ever round,
circles, cycles, sides about.

Tectonic rifts, millennia shift;
Yang and Yin revolve again.

Tick-tock, tick-tock,
ever swings the cosmic clock;
ever shifting rival roles;
relentless tides;
conflicting poles.

Tick-tock, tick-tock, tick-tock.

Ever wonder why our world is undergoing such dramatic changes? Why tensions exist both on a personal, national and global level? Why cameras are everywhere? Are you even aware of the number of cameras capturing your image wherever you go on a daily basis, that you're being potentially "watched" most likely far more than you realize?

If you're old enough, you know this is not the same world of only thirty years ago. The world of sixty years ago is so vastly different from today's world it would be unrecognizable to the youth of today in values, ethics, technology, family structure, routine, recreation.

Are you also aware that the next few decades will bring even more changes? That by the end of the century this world won't even resemble that of ten years ago? Why so many changes? Why?

It's all about numbers. Yes, numbers. Would you think there would be any other answer coming from a numerologist?

As simple as this may seem, all things can be reduced to numbers because numbers are nothing more than labels for invisible, gravity-like energy fields, divine ciphers describing circumstances, events, attitudes, conditions, political systems - everything. Numbers are also God codes, one way He speaks to us in ways we can understand, if we want to spend time learning the language.

Think about it for a minute. Everything is numbers and without numbers life couldn't exist. All computers exist on only two digits – 0 and 1. All banking systems are nothing but numbers. All science is numbers. We could never have put a man on the moon or sent interstellar craft (manned or unmanned) into space without numbers. There could be no music without numbers, or speech, even light and sound! This is precisely why the famous mathematician, philosopher and scientist, Pythagoras, said:

Numbers rule the universe. Everything is arranged according to number and mathematical shape.

It is also because of his understanding of numbers that Dr. Albert Einstein, the greatest scientific mind of the Twentieth Century, said:

Everything is determined, the beginning as well as the end, by forces over which we have no control. It is determined for the insect as well as for the star. Human beings, vegetables or cosmic dust, we all dance to a mysterious tune intoned in the distance by an invisible piper.

Do you realize how powerful these statements from Pythagoras and Einstein are? What these two esteemed gentlemen are saying: "numbers rule the universe..." , "everything is determined..."? These are staggering statements and ... they are absolutely true.

Are you also aware that through numbers we can know the blueprint of our destiny in this life? Are you also aware that through numbers we can prove the existence of God? That's right. God can be proven with numbers. It's simple to understand. Man didn't create numbers. Man didn't create the universe. Man can't even create peace in his own household.

Some power, far beyond the realm of man's comprehension, created everything. That Power, that Intelligence, we call God, a Power Einstein recognized when he said:

Everyone who is seriously involved in the pursuit of science becomes convinced that a Spirit is manifest in the laws of the universe, a Spirit vastly superior to that of man and one in the face of which we, with our modest powers, must feel humble.

All this brings us to why times are changing and have been changing so drastically over the last fifty years and why they will continue to change until the end of this century. Here's why...

PART 1. Number Shift

Cosmically, the dimension in which we live is polar – a construct of opposing forces maintaining a positive and a negative charge. Thus, there is masculine and there is feminine – polar opposites. There is day and there is night; there is black and there is white. There is up, there is down; there is good, there is bad; there is right, there is wrong, etc.

This polarized structure is the basis of the ancient Taoist symbol, ‘the yin and the yang’ wherein the yin (the black side) represents the female principle of the universe, and the yang (the white side) represents the male principle. These separations exist on opposite sides of a wavy line, depicting the non-linear, fluid, adjustable aspect between the two extremes. In this Taoist symbol, there is a white dot in the black side and a black dot in the white side signifying that within each polarity there exists a part of its opposite: within the feminine, there is masculine and within the masculine, there is feminine; within the good there is bad and within the bad there is good. In effect, neither polarity is exclusively one pure polarity.

The design of this polarized structure means there will always be conflict within this creation. For every point of view, there will exist an opposing point of view and when the pendulum swings one way, it must, by its very nature, swing the other. Therefore, nothing is static. Everything moves to a great cosmic rhythm. And so it is with millennia. They ebb and flow, alternating in a pendulum motion between positive and negative polarities.

Currently, our world is caught in the change between the 1st and 2nd millennia.

One [1] versus Two [2]

Numbers have attributes and characteristics.

The number 1 rules all things Yang [male].	The number 2 rules all things Yin [female].
One is solo and single.	Two is social and together.
One seeks a solitary adventure.	Two seeks company.
One is the leader.	Two is the follower.
One is the pioneer.	Two is the ultimate partner.
One goes first and shows the way.	Two assists, helps and supports.
One, being independent, stands on its own two feet.	Two, being dependent, does not stand alone.
One rules direct action and energy in motion.	Two rules indirect action and reaction.
One rules the self and the ego.	Two rules others and relationships.
One rules logic and reason.	Two rules intuition and emotion.
One represents ambition, courage and will.	Two represents togetherness and compatibility.

In simpler words, ‘1’ and ‘2’ are direct opposites, as opposite as any two numbers of the alpha-numeric spectrum can be.

Two things need to be mentioned here. Firstly, although the '1' rules the male energy and, therefore, men in general, and the '2' rules the female energy and women in general, all of us are a blend of masculine and feminine energies in various compositions. No person is comprised totally of all male energy or totally all female energy. Secondly, each number, in this case the '1' and '2', carries its own polar field maintaining a positive and negative charge. Thus, while the '1' and '2' are polar opposites in themselves, both the '1' and the '2' possess their own positive and negative aspects. Like interstate and intrastate, there is also an interrelationship and intrareationship regarding numerical vibrations.

Keywords for the number '1'

active, assertive, creative, courageous, decisive, direct, dynamic, ego driven, independent, initiating, logical, original, positive, powerful, rational, reasonable, self-oriented, self-reliant, steadfast, straightforward linear, one-sided, single, unilateral aggressive, arrogant, demanding, dominant, ego-maniacal, insensitive, overbearing, selfish, self-indulgent, self-obsessed, unable or unwilling to notice others, unbending, unemotional, uncompromising, uncooperative

Keywords for the number '2'

agreeable, amenable, diplomatic, considerate, cooperative, gentle, harmonizing, intuitive, kind, nonobtrusive, patient, peacemaking, receptive, relationship driven and others oriented, responsive, sensitive bilateral, double, two-sided

acquiescent, bending, argumentative, competitive, contradictory, deceptive, dependent, doing things behind one's back, duplicitous, emotional, indirect, negative, passive, submissive, vacillating

So... back to our original question as to why the world is, and has been, undergoing such dramatic change. It's simply because we are smack dab in the middle of a massive pendulum swing between the '1' energy of the last thousand years and the '2' energy of this current thousand years.

This has colossal, imponderable import for our earth and the people living at this time, for it marks, not just a change of years, or a change of decades, or a change of centuries, but a change of thousand year increments of cosmic earth time and, more importantly, an enormous change in the vibratory veil of planet earth.

One might not think this too extraordinary, but it is. A person could, conceivably, outlive a century, but no one outlives a millennium. It is an extremely long period of time as far as ordinary, human, day-to-day, living timetables are concerned. What is notably extraordinary, however, is the shift in energy fields in the cosmic realm, so to speak, when millennia change.

The vibratory influence of any millennium, of course, extends for a full thousand years influencing every person, every creature, every soul and every event occurring within its boundaries. Now, in our lifetime, during this time-change of millennia, our earth is undergoing a shift in cosmic forces of immense proportion, a shift which will affect each of us whether we acknowledge it or not.

In understanding this concept, let's use the analogy of being at the beach. When we are on the beach, we must deal with the size of the on-flowing waves and their rebounding undertow ever pulling us seaward. Sometimes the waves are small, sometimes medium, sometimes large, sometimes huge, the larger ones possibly jeopardizing our lives. For those who have experienced huge waves, the kind that crest and crash on the beach with a devil-may-care attitude, it can be frightening because such waves have no concern or respect for anything in their path. They are impersonal manifestations of cosmic creation and dominance. People, of course, have died in such situations, their deaths testimony to the forces of the ocean over which they and we maintain zero control.

So it is with millennia. They are huge living waves of cosmic energy. They roll onto and over the beach of time with absolutely no regard for personalities, possessions or social conventions. Oblivious to their predecessor, they have their own will and they exercise it mercilessly. They are aloof, indifferent and inconsiderate of what lies in their path. These thousand year periods of impersonal, irrepressible power and might harbor gargantuan levels of energy far beyond the ability of any human being to control or manipulate. They control us. The sheer weight of their mass and energy compel us to move to their will and in their direction. Indeed, they move us where they choose and when they choose, for we are not strong enough to swim against them any more than we are strong enough to swim against the force of a tidal wave. In effect, they rule and we obey.

Fortunately, to a degree, millennia, and their inbred, intrinsic characteristics, are calculable, moving to a predetermined rhythm, and by understanding their essence and adjusting to them, we can survive by surfing, by going with their flow. To resist them is impossible. They will simply pick us up, like the towering wave, and slam us down to a more humbling position, perhaps taking our life in the process.

Because of the enormity of their cosmic force and weight, changes in millennia are, likewise, enormous.

the key phrase is: "adjust or perish."

Each millennium has very different traits and characteristics, just as do numbers. To remain rooted in the ways of an outgoing millennium and not adapt to the energies and characteristics of the incoming one, is to insure annihilation.

This enormous shifting of energies between the '1' energy of the 1st Millennium and the '2' energy of the 2nd Millennium can be likened to a tidal wave pushing out the old... that which was Yang dominated, for that which is new, Yin dominated.

When we apply numerical ciphers to millennia, we see that we have come to the end of the 1st millennium. It was a thousand year period of the self, action, conquest, exploration, invention, industrialization and the planting of flags on newly discovered soil to claim property rights for singular nations. It was, indeed, a time for the building of empires demanding the type of qualities and characteristics that such work requires – an active, courageous, logical, masculine, rational, strong, unbending, unemotional stiff upper lip mentality. People's feelings were not important. Life was cheap and relatively short. Truly, it was a time of 'fire', fire which strengthened and hardened, purified and also destroyed. It was a period in which the yang principle dominated the earth's social structure. "It's a man's world" was a phrase most probably coined during this thousand year era. And, it was an age of monarchy – rulership by one, whether that one was a queen or a king. It was not until the latter part of the 1st millennium that such rulership began to be tested and challenged.

However, as this 1st millennium began to draw to a close, the overlapping energy of the oncoming 2nd millennium began to be felt. Naturally, this occurred most strongly in the nineteen hundreds, the time frame in which the energy of the '1' became focused on the nine – the energy of completion and conclusion drawing things to a close and leading to new beginnings ( $19 \rightarrow 1 + 9 = 10 \rightarrow 1 + 0 = 1$ ). It was during this century that women's rights began to emerge, walls of all kinds began to collapse between people and nations, and issues involving people, not conquests, began to take priority. Because of the 'shrinking earth', people began to see that survival on our planet was directly related to all of us working and harmonizing together as one earth rather than as a collective assortment of individual entities functioning independently and seeking different goals.

Now we find ourselves poised on the starting line of a new race, a new adventure. The 1st millennium is now the subject of history books, myth and lore. It is over. The wave of its vibration has passed and a new wave is upon us, a wave not ruled by the '1' but by the '2', a wave consisting of very, very, very different characteristics. Exact opposite characteristics in fact.

The 2nd millennium, in stark contrast to the first, will be a thousand year period ruled by the yin – the female principle of the universe, the absolute opposite energy of the one. This will be a time when she, the female, will come into her own, when, most likely, it will no longer be considered to be 'a man's world', but a world of equals. The 2nd millennium theme will also encompass people, others and relationships.

Principles of balance, emotion, equality, receptivity, sensitivity and togetherness will take precedence. Because the number '2' is a water sign, it will be a thousand year era in which feelings and intuition will also take their place on the great life stage.

One of the cautionary aspects of this 2nd millennium is that the '2' also rules duality, duplicity and vacillation. People, especially in the beginning, will be subject to polarization and taking sides. Wedges may split them on many issues, forcing everyone to consider other people's points of view, to have patience with them (people and issues) and tolerate them which, of course, are positive actions.

However, because of the differences of opinion which the '2' generates, there will most likely exist competition and the struggle of one against the other. In general, people may also not be as straightforward and decisive as is necessary to the solving of problems. The '2' can vacillate and sway from side to side, and while the positive aspects of this vibration are to, indeed, see and understand both sides of an issue and reach a balance point, the negative aspect is that there may not be the courageous standing of one's ground when necessary, the honoring of one's word and the utilization of logic which are positive traits. The faculty of reason may be given a back seat to emotion, and while none of us can live without emotion, emotion without reason can create volatile situations.

The 2nd millennium will also be a period of bilateral expression – the expression of two, not one. The vibrational wave of the 1st millennium may have made it appropriate to be unbending, unemotional and unfeeling, never showing or exhibiting anything other than a stiff upper lip. However, antithetically, the vibrational wave of the 2nd millennium will make it appropriate to be bending, emotional and feeling. The emphasis will not be on a rulership of one, but a rulership of two. People will 'feel' more and have an intrinsic need for their leaders to 'feel' as well. To exhibit a lack of emotion, feeling, compassion, caring, kindness and togetherness in an environment which not only demands such characteristics but creates them as well, will spell catastrophe for those who fail to adjust and work with, not against, the energies in existence.

Summary

This 2nd Millennium heralds a new time; a very different time. This new period of a thousand years will bring a concentration of energy focusing on the female aspect of creation, on collaboration with others, receptivity, relationships, sensitivity, support and togetherness. This is not the millennium of the pioneer. It is now the millennium of the partner.

PART 2. Timeline

If you are going through hell, keep going.
Winston Churchill

Whatever we are reaping now we, ourselves, have sown before.
Saint Sawan Singh, 20th Century

Without a doubt, it is this enormous shifting of energies between the '1' energy of the 1st Millennium and the '2' energy of the 2nd Millennium that is responsible for the challenges facing our world today on both a personal, regional, national and global level.

Other than the analogy of the tidal waves, we can also use the analogies of a tug-o-war, a teeter-totter, and a pendulum with opposing energies tugging back and forth for dominance in the case of the tug-o-war; contrasting up and down motion, as in the case of the teeter-totter, or movement back and forth from one extreme to the other, as in the example of a pendulum. A rotating world moving from day to night is also an excellent metaphor. Regardless of the analogy, the shifting of opposing forces is creating confliction, confusion, and intense levels of energy manifested in all aspects of life: physically, emotionally, sexually, financially, psychologically, domestically.

In the following chart, consider for a moment the havoc and ramifications generated with a total shift from those qualities in the '1' column on the left to those in the '2' column on the right. It reflects a complete bouleversement, a total reversal of attributes, conditions, characteristics and energies.

To clarify, think of living in a house of all males for a thousand years - and all that male energy is and represents - and then suddenly finding yourself living in a house of all females and all that female energy is and represents.

We can also think of living on a desert governed by dryness for a thousand years and then being instantly uprooted and thrown into a rain forest saturated with water and moisture, or moving from a thousand years of daylight to a thousand years of night.

The psychological adjustments alone are staggering, not to mention the physical, emotional, practical and day-to-day changes that would have to be made to accommodate a completely different and opposite set of characteristics and life-survival choices which would be turned inside out and upside down. This immense shifting of energies from one polarity [the '1'] to its direct opposite [the '2'] is what we inhabitants of earth are currently experiencing.

Timeline of the Millennia Shift

All this discussion of the shifting of opposites begs the questions:

1. When did this shift begin?
2. When will it end?
3. How long will its effects last?

Population Explosion

The Age of the Female, this current thousand year period of time, can also be regarded as The Age of Others because the number '2' rules not just female energy but the energy of others and relationship as well. For an Age of Others to exist, there must be a large number of "others" present in the world.

When we look at the population figures of the world in the last thousand years, we see that in the year 1,000 there were only approximately 254 million people on the earth. In the year 1800, there were 813 million, a gain of only 559 million people in 800 years. In the year 1900 the population grew to 1.5 billion, an increase of 687 million people in only one hundred years, a gain larger than the entire 800 years before it! The engines of the 2nd Millennium rocket ship were firing.

By the year 2000, the population of earth exploded to a whopping 6 billion people – a 300% increase in only a century from 1900 to 2000! The rocket ship of The Age of the Female and The Age of Others had blasted off! The projected population of the earth by the year 2050 will be 9 billion people. When this pattern is placed in a graph, the explosion is obvious.

General population estimates of planet earth from the year 1000 to 2050 [U.S. Census Bureau, Midyear Population].

1000	254 million
1100	301 million
1200	360 million
1300	360 million

1500	425 million
1600	545 million
1700	600 million
1800	813 million
1900	1.5 billion
2000	6.0 billion
2050	9.0 billion

As the world population began to fire its engines in the 1800s, the suffrage movement in the United States began with the Seneca Falls Women's Rights Convention in July of 1848, organized by Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Lucretia Mott. The movement culminated in the passage of the 19th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States on 26 August 1920, giving women the right to vote. The female had arrived . . . in the 20th Century and in the decade of the 1920s! This happened exactly while the earth's population rocket ship had blasted off, heading upward at enormous speed into the skies of the 2nd Millennium, the Age of the Female and Others. Interestingly, the word "suffrage" and the Lifepath of Elizabeth Cady Stanton are both 38/11/2 energy patterns. The synchronicity of all this is simply too perfect to be coincidental.

These facts are the mere tip of the iceberg of the '2' energy manifested in major players and events of the Twentieth Century.

A full list is offered in The Age of the Female: A Thousand Years of Yin, now available at Amazon.com.

Dates of the Shift

With the population exploding, the concentration of shifting energies intensified. The first date in recorded history when the energy of the '2' became manifested in numerology charts was 31 December 1957. When the actual values of these numbers are added together, the result is 2000, the identifying numeric cipher of this current thousand year period which would have given anyone born on this date a pure '2' Lifepath.

$$\begin{array}{r} 1957 \\ +12 \\ +31 \\ \hline 2000 \end{array}$$

The importance of this date was magnified by the fact that only 89 days earlier – a nano-speck of cosmic time – the Soviet Union launched Sputnik, the first orbiting satellite of earth, on 4 October 1957. This event started the space race in which two super powers [note two, not three] began a competition [a '2' characteristic] to reach the moon, an "other" heavenly body which has universally been held to be feminine in nature and marked by the number '2' representing others. It is all beautifully and perfectly synchronistic.

Yet, there's more. Having established the date of 31 December 1957 as being the first Lifepath calculation of the 2nd Millennium label of "2", the next date of importance is 31 January 1969. This date marks the 4th [Crown and last] Pinnacle in a numerology chart [Day, 31 plus year, 1969 = 2000].

The year 1969 was also an auspicious year for the inhabitants of earth for another reason. Why? Because on 20 July 1969, [20 reduces to a 2], two astronauts, Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin, stepped foot on the moon [an "other" planetary body], thus marking mankind's first steps onto another world other than its own an auspicious event sealed in human history by the famous and unforgettable words of Neil Armstrong: "That's one small step for man; one giant leap for mankind!" This was during the flight of Apollo II [11 is obviously a 2 in reduction]. Of note is that both Armstrong and Aldrin had the number '2' dominate in their numerology charts. Yet, Michael Collins, the astronaut circling in the Lunar Module while Armstrong and Aldrin walked on the moon, had no 2s in his chart! So here we have Apollo II [2] landing on another world [2] on a 20th calendar day [2] in the 20th Century [2] by two astronauts, both of whom had the '2' energy awash in their charts. Coincidence? Hardly.

From a numerological chart perspective, the 4th and final Challenge [Crown Challenge] will not be established until 31 December 2031, which will mark the last day of the Millennia Shift [2031 minus 31 = 2000]. After this date, all souls born on planet earth will have the number '2' solidly entrenched in their numerology charts. As this article is being written in August of 2009, there are still twenty-two years remaining before the Millennia Shift is complete. It is, thus, a powerfully dynamic time for the inhabitants of planet earth. To be experiencing a cosmic energetic shift of such proportions is quite rare, although difficult and challenging. The next shift of such magnitude between opposing millennia won't be until the 4th and 5th millennia, some 3,000 years away. As '1' and '2' are opposites, so are '4' and '5'. The only other pair of opposites is that between the '7' and '8'.

If you'd like to know more about what is happening during these times, please read The Age of the Female: A Thousand Years of Yin, now available at Amazon.com. It explains in detail this enormous shift we're experiencing on our earth.

Still, even though the core of the Millennia Shift will be complete on 31 December 2031, the effects of the Millennia Shift won't be complete until the end of the first century in this new thousand year period, approximately around the year 2100. Why? Because by then most of the souls born in the Twentieth Century of the 1900s, and therefore imbued with the energy of the '1', will have passed on, leaving a planet of souls saturated with the energy, attributes and consciousness of the '2'. Therefore, this is not a time to be impatient. It is a time to be calm, balanced and centered. We're not getting off this Millennia Shift ride any too soon, so realistically we need to make the proper adjustments in order to live a life of harmony and balance. Patience, understanding, strength and courage are vital to stability both individually and collectively. In other words, the effects of this Millennia Shift are not going away any time soon. Therefore, it is important to adjust, adapt and work with, not against, the natural forces now enveloping our world and our lives.

The 2nd Millennium is creating an enormous shifting of consciousness from that of the last thousand years - some good, some not so good. But what lies ahead beyond this period of millennia shifting? Frankly, it's a whole new world.

Following are the Summaries from Chapters 1 and 2 of The Age of the Female: A Thousand Years of Yin available at <http://www.richardking.net/books> and www.amazon.com.

Chapter 1 – Summary

All in all, the Age of the Female, this thousand years of Yin, will be an exciting and dynamic time for the inhabitants of earth because our consciousness as a one-world people will be undergoing an extreme metamorphosis, especially in the first one hundred years. This is not an age which will focus on that which is singular, separate or autonomous. This is an age which is and will continue to be involved with those energies which are relationship and partnership oriented; on that which is equal, fair and balanced; on that which is saturated with others being involved with others. It is the time for females and feminine energy to have their due, a time where emotion and intuition will wax like the fullness of the moon on a clear and starry night. Thus, there will be reflection as well as creation; absorption as well as radiation. There will be opposition and contrast, confliction and distinction. This new age will be an age which will rock, teeter-totter, swing and sway to energies far more powerful than man's ability to control or manipulate. It is an age in which we would be well-served to buckle up, hang on, stay balanced, disciplined, kind and caring because, to be sure, we're in for the ride of our lives.

Chapter 2 – Summary

Life is expressed in circles, cycles, sides and tides. In other words, everything has its time, place and purpose. In this temporal world nothing is forever. Energies come and go, as do periods of time. Indeed, to everything, including energy cycles and vibratory veils, there is a season, and cosmic seasons can be identified with numbers and their corresponding characteristics. These seasons, these periods of time, all have their reasons, as well as their purposes for being in the great and grand scheme of things. Nothing is without design. Everything has both purpose and place.

Owing to its polar paradigm, changes in this dimension are constant and certain, changes which can sometimes be trying and challenging due to dynamic shifts of diametrically opposed vibrational fields. Such a dramatic shift is the earth now experiencing as it moves into the energy field of the female 2 vibration and away from its antithetical polar male 1 counterpart.

To be sure, earth is no longer living within the energy field of the '1' - the male, the monarch and the pioneer. It is now living within the millennium of the '2' – the realm of others, the female and her energy, the partner, the friend, helper, associate, assistant, accomplice, companion, collaborator, colleague, comrade, competitor, challenger, negotiator, diplomat, teammate, ally and adversary.

It is also a time where balance and equilibrium will be critical to survival; where emotion and intuition will find prominence and place; where kindness, caring, compassion and personal service will have more possibility of notoriety than ever before; where that which is hidden will be revealed; where reflection and illusion will wax, not wane; where that which lies on the surface may be opposite from that lurking beneath; where people may become self-absorbed and blind to the reality of others to the detriment of the whole; where forked tongues may be accepted and acceptable; where courage may find want and people may want for courage, and where the open, direct and straight truth may be overshadowed by the indirect shroud of duplicity and deceit.

Globally, governments must now take a new look at the 'cosmic' situation, as well as how to provide leadership in a world founded on thoughts of togetherness, partnership and positive personal interaction and association with others, as opposed to the qualities of oneness and self, which may have been necessary for the independence and survival of emergent and autonomous nations in the past, but which will neither serve nor promote the salutary interests of an emergent and autonomous world... a world which will not be marked as much by the pioneer as by the partner, a world challenged with promoting cooperation, not contention; accord, not discord; harmony, not inharmony; peace, not war; a world which will engender the well-being of others rather than serving the interests of the single self and... it will be a world which will not be so much a brave new world, but a new world in which we must all learn to be brave.

Mid-Century Observation

One of the observations concerns the middle of this first one hundred years of the 2nd Millennium. For all of us, the 3rd [Crown] Epoch in our numerology charts is derived from the year of birth, a period that generally becomes active in a time window somewhere between our late forties to mid-fifties. This number determines part of the energies present in our charts from its moment of activation to the end of our lives. For all of us born in the 1900s of the 1st Millennium, our Crown Epoch includes a four digit set of numbers such as: 1927, 1939, 1945, 1958, 1966, 1977, 1982, 1999 and so forth. These quaternary ciphers, because they're comprised of four numbers, reveal a condition of complexity. The concern is that for all those people born on the earth in the year 2000, their Crown Epoch, becoming activated in their mid-forties to mid-fifties, will only consist of one number, the 2! There's no complexity here at all. For those born in the year 2001, the final period of their lives will be marked by the simple number 3. Those born in 2002, by a single 4 and so on. The question then arises, what is going to happen on the earth to make the lives of these souls so simple?

Furthermore, the Crown Challenge, ruling the final challenge period of our lives and becoming activated in the same general time period as the final Crown Epoch [between mid-forties to mid-fifties], will manifest the energies predominately of the 7, 8 and 9. For example, Crown Challenges are derived by subtracting the day of birth from the year of birth. A person born in the year 2000 and on the first day of any month will have a Crown Challenge of 1999 – a number grouping depicting endings [2000 minus 1 = 1999]. A person born in the same year on the 15th of the month will have a Crown Challenge of 1985 [2000 minus 15 = 1985]; a person born on the 31st of any month will have a Crown Challenge of 1969 [2000 minus 31 = 1969]. As opposed to the Epoch timeline, all these challenges have complexity. The existing condition will then be a simple life [as noted by the Epoch ciphers] with complex challenges [noted by the Challenge ciphers], an interesting combination.

Beginning in the year 2001, all Crown Challenges will be anchored in the decades of the 1970s, 1980s and 1990s. This will continue until 31 December 2031, in which every Crown Challenge thereafter will have a root of 2000 or higher, thus finalizing the end of the Core Millennium Shift and cementing the number '2' in the charts of every living person on the face of the earth [2031 minus 31 = 2000]. From that moment on, there will be absolutely no energy of the '1' remaining in the final Pinnacle, Epoch and Challenge positions of numerology charts of earthlings. By the end of the first century of this millennia, and with the dying out of all those souls born in the 1900s, there will be little trace of what life was like before the 2nd Millennium. Only literary, auditory and visual records will reveal the kind of life most of us are experiencing now and which marks the age of the male yang [1] energy.

A simple external life ahead for the earth with complex challenges? What will cause such simplicity and challenges combined? Global conflict? Big Brother taking over people's lives, making them dependent but conflicted? Famine destroying much of the world's population creating personal turmoil? A global pandemic wiping out a large portion of the earth's people? Some external force separate from the earth causing massive changes? Or nothing at all? It is, indeed, a condition warranting thought and preparation – physically, psychologically, emotionally, spiritually. The key for those people surviving and moving into the future of the 21st Century will be to remain balanced, controlled and focused on a spiritual way of life. While events and conditions change in the physical dimension, they do not change in the higher spiritual cosmos. Hence, a primary reason to follow a spiritual path leading one inward, upward and out of this earthly domain of changeless change, duality, and eternal uncertainty, to greater spiritual planes of light and peace, thus heeding the admonition of Saint Charan Singh, "Just live in the creation and get out of it."

CONCERNS & DANGERS

© Richard Andrew King

The trip begins - just inches in on a thousand mile road;
what lies ahead as travelers tread
the path is writ in code.

Sunny rays and shaky days
no doubt will take their turns aligning the path circuitous with dangers and concerns.

To hide the head and never dread
the route of unknown seas, denies the wise and insures cries of trailing miseries.

The path ahead is marked by Two:
divisions, tensions, rivals, strangers;
intruding eyes, Orwellian skies disguise concerns and dangers;
create concerns and dangers;
concerns and dangers;
dangers.

PART 4. The Two Tidal Wave Rolls On

We should not lose our balance... We have to adjust...
If we try to solve the problems of the world we can never succeed. We can only rise above these problems.

In this world there is nothing but strife, struggle and conflict. Lasting peace can never be found within the domain of the mind and senses. So it was from the time of creation and so it will always be.

Saint Charan Singh - 20th Century

The tidal wave of the '2' energy continues to roll over the landscape of planet earth, its surge not even abating until the date of 31 December 2031, finalizing the Millennia Shift on 31 December 2099, and in the process fundamentally transforming the world in such a way that it would be unrecognizable to souls inhabiting the last millennium of the '1' energy.

This Millennia Shift between the '1' and '2' energies is massive and arguably the most dynamic transition of any two sets of energies for the next eight thousand years. There will be a major shift between the 4th and 5th millennia, and another between the 7th and 8th millennia. Like the 1 and 2, the numbers 4 and 5 are direct opposites, as are the numbers 7 and 8. Hence, great change during their transitions.

Thirteen years into the 2nd Millennium the world is witnessing the exact characteristics of the '2' - some good, some bad, and they're not done growing in intensity. Nothing is purely one-sided in this dimension of duality. Everything has two sides - one positive, one negative; one light, one dark.

How man manages the intense energies of the '2' and its Master Number 11 root signifying opposition, contention, descension and division will determine the quality of his life, both on a personal and collective basis. The key to living a successful life in this '2' era is balance, i.e., keeping all aspects of life in alignment - spiritual, physical, psychological, emotional, material, financial, sexual, social, political, governmental, global. This is not easy to do. In fact, such balance must begin with each of us individually. If we wait for the mass of humanity, the state, government or world community to achieve balance, we will be waiting interminably. The mass consciousness moves at the speed of Gibraltar, if it moves at all. This is why personal responsibility is critical to a meaningful life. To avoid getting caught up in the tumult and chaos of this change, we must remain balanced, centered and spiritually focused.

Still in its infancy, the state of the world in this 2nd Millennium with its attributes and characteristics reveals the following...

Rise of Women

Female (Yin) energy continues to rise. Beginning at the Seneca Falls Woman's Rights convention in 1848, in the United States, women continue to expand their presence in all aspects of free societies - education, business, medicine, communication, athletics, politics and so forth. Non-free societies which have subjugated women are continuing to feel the pressure of female ascent, as is openly, and sadly, apparent in many countries. Ultimately, this will change. Yang (male) energy is waning; Yin (female) energy is waxing. The Great Cosmic Pendulum has reversed direction from Yang to Yin. Expect women to continue rising on the global stage. This is her time, and the spotlight is now on her.

A thousand years of Yang, gone.
A thousand years of him, been.
Now, a thousand years of Yin begin as the cosmic clock assures and the tides of time secure - the next one thousand years belong to her.

The Age of the Female: A Thousand Years of Yin Chapter 1

Male vs. Female College Enrollment

Regarding the rise of women in education, Forbes.com stated:

The female domination of higher education prevails across all types of schools.

and

The male-female ratio in higher education has been steadily moved in favor of the females ever since the 1970s. Total enrollment figures show that females outnumbered their male counterparts for the first time in the late 1970s, and they have steadily increased their numerical advantage ever since. The superiority first came in public universities, but soon private universities saw female enrollment surpass male enrollment.

[<https://www.forbes.com/sites/ccap/2012/02/16/the-male-female-ratio-in-college/>]

Women in Medicine

The rise of women is also notable in medical school students:

In the U.S., women were 47.0% of all first year medical school students in 2010-2011.

[<https://jamanetwork.com/journals/jama/article-abstract/1104302>]

Women in Business

The business world is also experiencing a rise in the number of women in business. Go4Funding.com states: Today, more women are breaking free from the traditional, gender-specific roles and venturing into the business world. Not only are they holding high corporate positions but they are also successful women entrepreneurs who own almost half of all businesses in the United States.

[<http://www.go4funding.com/Articles/Entrepreneur/Some-Facts-About-Women-Entrepreneurs.aspx>]

Obviously, the conclaves of education, medicine and business are not the only arenas in which Yin energy is waxing. Common sense and simple observation illustrate the rise of women in practically every field of endeavor.

Socialization

The number 2 is the primal energy of socialization, an energy that continues to expand at breakneck speed. Social media, for example, exploded during the Alpha Phase (first ten years) of the new millennium. Google came into existence in 1998, LinkedIn in 2003, Facebook in 2004, YouTube in 2005 and Twitter in 2006. Obviously, these networks are already an entrenched aspect of modern society. And think how fast they have grown – faster than the blink of any eye in cosmic time.

Cell Phone Usage

A major aspect of the earth's social globalization is the remarkable usage of cell phones and similar devices. Worldbank.org has stated that 75% of the world's population has access to such phones and devices – 75%! It wasn't that long ago when the standard phone in American households was a black finger-dial model with a straight black cord connected to a wall jack. When a person wanted to make a call, he or she had to first connect to an operator who would place the caller on a party line in which people could listen to other people's conversations.

Social Impersonalization

One of the noticeable ironies of this age is that even though people are becoming more social, as witnessed by the genesis of social media, people are also becoming less personal. Perhaps the clearest example of this is the television commercial where a young woman and man are sitting across the table from each other in a restaurant booth and, although they're within touching distance, she's sending him a text message that's she's breaking up with him. She doesn't talk directly to him, she doesn't even look at him. Her head is buried in her cell phone the whole time. Although quite laughable, the universal message being expressed is quite sad. People are allowing machines to so consume themselves that they are losing sight of what is natural – personal interaction. This creates a state of impersonalization that is humanly deleterious to productive and harmonious relationships.

Others & Relationships

As powerfully as the number '2' represents female energy, it also governs the concept of others and their relationships. In fact, it can be argued that the dominant theme of the 2nd Millennium is relationships and all the issues – positive and negative – that are a product of its energy.

Dependency

Groups generally have a greater potential for survival than individuals, which is why people band together in clans, communities and nations. However, when individual sovereignty and freedom – which are the lifeblood, power, and energy of the group – are subordinated to bureaucracies, the group will ultimately die. Bureaucracies gain their energy from free-spirited, unencumbered individuals, not vice-versa. In the history of man, it has always been the individual spirit that has generated success, not governments. This is why any government governs best when it governs least. It recognizes the source of its own being – the individuals who comprise it.

And herein lies one of the great challenges for the world and America during this 2nd Millennium. People the world over are relinquishing their individual sovereignty to their governments, becoming dependent upon them for their survival and well-being. They, the people, are abdicating their self-reliance, individuality, personal responsibility and accountability in deference to the external power of others, i.e., their governments, which, unabated, keep growing in their voracious greed for power and control. They, the people, are increasingly manifesting a sense of apathy and passivity for their own well-being. Huge mistake. In doing so, they will ultimately become enslaved by those to whom they carelessly and thoughtlessly acquiesced their personal power, and it will be hard, if not impossible, to regain their freedom. Through their ignorance and apathy such people are planting the seeds of their own lamentable incarceration, and in the end they will have no one to blame but themselves. The tragedy is that their offspring will have to pay the price for their actions and it will be too late to change course. Inquisitively, what will future generations of children think of the legacy their parents and elders left them? Will they speak of them in glowing, grateful terms or something far less complimentary?

It's Your Fault

The 2's negative energy of others is nowhere more obvious than in the ever-growing ignoble malady of blaming others for one's own actions. In this day in age where do we ever see anyone blaming himself for his own actions and condition in life? People relentlessly and shamelessly point their finger of blame to some other person, event or circumstance for their own actions. Yet, the basic reality of life is that each of us is responsible for our own actions. As famed Indian Saint, Guru Nanak states: I blame not another; I blame my own karmas. The circumstance of blaming others for one's life is yet another manifestation of individuals surrendering their own power to others – individuals, groups or governments. Nothing good will come from such a lack of character. It is another step downward into a dark future of enslavement.

Conflict

The interaction of others and their relationships are visually depicted in the number 11 in which each individual 1 signifies a person, ego, group, nation, mindset, ideology or world in conjunction with other persons, egos, nations, ideologies, etc. If there is harmony between the two 1s, there will be peace – the positive side of the '2'. However, there can also be competition, division and contention between the 1s, the extreme result being inharmony and war – the negative side of the '2'.

It is the negative aspect of the '2' that creates the great danger for earth and her human race. Honestly, when we look at the world today do we see anything approaching harmony? Quite the contrary. There is division and contention practically everywhere – nationally and globally.

One of the divisional benchmarks in the United States, for example, is that after the Presidential Election of 2012 every state in the union submitted requests for secession, every state! There is a massive body of Americans who are extremely concerned with the path and policies generated by the current leadership of the United States. Nothing to the degree of this divisiveness of secession has ever happened since the American Civil War. Such a condition does not bode well for America's future of "One nation under God."

Even more severe are the great divides among nations and cultures. Where is the harmony here? The Middle East is a continuous hotbed of descension, hostility, and killing. Emerging nations in pursuit of nuclear power are a glowing threat to global stability, especially given the emotional instability of many world leaders who possess the power to create a nuclear holocaust.

On this issue it is interesting to note that the word "nuclear" maintains a general root of 29/11/2 – the most dominate and potentially destructive numerical binary signifying relationship power struggles. In fact, the word "energy" is a 38/11/2. When both the 11s of "nuclear" and "energy" are combined, the result is the master number 22 – the vibration of construction or destruction. It is not a coincidence that nuclear energy is one of the hallmarks of the 2nd Millennium, which itself is contained within the energy field of a duality-based universe. Thus, our world of earth is – and will be for another 987 years – deeply immersed in the energy of the ‘2’ [as of writing, 2012]. This is why our current world is not so much a brave new world but a new world in which we must all learn to be brave. Unless man miraculously changes his ways and operates on the positive side of the ‘2’, his way forward will be downward into the abyss.

Space exploration

The ‘2’ energy of others also governs the exploration for other worlds. NASA's Kepler Telescope, a planet-hunting, in-space-platform instrument, is constantly searching for planets where liquid water is present at usable temperatures and where a blend of life-sustaining fundamental elements and compounds are present. Space exploration is even being undertaken by the private sector. Indeed, the earth consciousness is moving beyond the realm of its ‘1’ energy of solo existence into the realm of the ‘2’ energy of other worlds. Hopefully, earthlings will even expand such pioneering to build livable communities/bases on the moon to study space from the moon's vantage point. As a matter of inquiry and curiosity, why hasn't this been done already? Why go to the trouble of building space stations when the moon itself can function as a space station for the inhabitants of earth?

Silver Linings

So where are the silver linings within the 2's energy, especially since the world is generally operating on its negative side? First, it's important to understand that within every positive is an equal negative, and within every negative is an equal positive. Such is the construction of this bipolar dimension. Were we to stop and think deeply about this issue, we would discover many silver linings, no doubt, but here are five major blessings noted in the sequential letters A-B-C-D-E.

A. Awareness

Contrary to fairytale stories with living-happily-ever-after endings, this world is not a Pollyanna Land. Rather, and quite truthfully, it is a Pandora's Box of misfortune. All high level mystics and Masters teach this reality. When we understand this, we can adjust our perspective as to how to manage our lives, leading us to demonstrate one of the most critical skills in our ability to live a meaningful life, balance.

B. Balance

Balance is primary. It is virtually impossible to succeed and maintain success in any life endeavor without balance. It is an absolute critical life skill. Maintaining balance is a function of keeping things in alignment, as mentioned earlier in this article. When things are out of alignment, trouble ensues. When times are hectic and crazy, and getting crazier by the day, it reminds us, if we're paying attention, to keep our balance so we don't fall off the cliff. For example, having a balanced budget for a home, business or country is requisite to health and well-being. When finances are not balanced, difficulties follow as a natural course of events. Debt, despair, suffering, sorrow and tragedy are the result. The silver lining – be balanced!

C. Centeredness

It is axiomatic that we lose our balance because we lose our center, allowing external factors to control us rather than us controlling ourselves. And is this not a common experience? The silver lining of external negativity is to remind us that, ultimately, we are in control of ourselves. Just because the rest of the world, or most of it, is out of control does not mean we have to be. Negative circumstances and events should remind us to stay centered so we can remain balanced and not fall off the beam of life.

D. Diamond Worth

Chunk of coal or a diamond? Which would we want to own? Which would each of us want to be? To be a chunk of coal, all we have to do is nothing except lie around and erode away into a meaningless whisper of worthless black dust. But to be a diamond, ah! there's the rub. Diamonds are made under extreme heat and pressure over an extended period of time, not by a mere and casual blowing of an intermittent wind. In other words, if we want to be a person of great value, like a diamond, we have to be subjected to heat and pressure over long periods of time in order to be transformed into the most valuable of jewels.

It is challenging and difficult circumstances over long periods of time that offer us the great opportunity of becoming diamonds. Gems are not made by chunks of coal basking in the sun or sipping on delicious beverages while being fanned by servants under a palm tree on a vacation island. In order for there to be greatness in any of us, there must be heat, pressure and time placed upon us, voluntarily or involuntarily. It is difficult times that create diamond-esque men. Such is one of the greatest silver linings of challenging circumstances and their seemingly interminable longevity.

E. Elucidation of a Divine Design

Perhaps the greatest silver lining of negative circumstances, if not their greatest gift, is that they often serve to redirect our attention inward to seek answers to our world-laden woes and, ultimately, find God in the process. In fact, it is common knowledge in spiritual teachings that when God wants to bring a soul Home, the first thing He does is make that soul uncomfortable with its life so that it redirects its attention inwardly to where the Ultimate Truth exists.

When men lead comfortable lives, they don't seek answers to life's meaning or grand purpose. It is only when beset with pain, suffering, tumult, trials, tribulations and tears that men turn inward and begin asking God for help. Therefore, when any of us is laden with sorrows, let us be grateful that, as we turn inward – in spite of our external pain and suffering – we will see... and find... that we have not just been given a silver lining, but a lining of Divine Light and Eternal Knowledge transcending anything this very low and dark world has to offer.

Summary

As the '2' tidal wave continues to roll across the landscape of earth, it will continue to bring issues, influences, events, circumstances and situations reflecting its bipolar energy focusing on females, relationships, others and socialization. There will be positive and negative experiences within its reign – as is true for all numbers.

The great challenge within this '2' Millennium will be to create balance in all things without allowing negative energies to destroy the world in the process. There are silver linings to every number, to every energy, and if man focuses on the positive side of the '2' vibration, he – individually and collectively – can create a fulfilling and meaningful existence for himself and the entire earth.

PART 5. Millennial Layers

In the web of its own actions is the whole world caught and it does not realize it.

Guru Nanak

What you have not done will never befall you; only what you have done will befall you.

Saint Dadu

Life exists in layers. These layers are manifested in many ways. For example, a high-rise building is composed of layers but we call them stories. Educational systems are constructed in layers but we refer to them as grade levels. Military systems exhibit their layers as ranks and so forth.

Furthermore, layers often contain sub-layers. High-rise buildings have underground foundations and above-ground structures. Ranks in military systems are composed of officer ranks and enlisted ranks. Elementary, junior high, high school, and collegiate levels have their sub-levels such as freshman, sophomore, junior, senior, graduate, post graduate, doctoral, and post-doctoral.

From a numerological perspective, timelines are also comprised of layers and sub-layers. For example, our world is now transiting its 2nd Millennium. However, as we exist within this thousand year period marked by the number 2, replete with its amalgam of positive and negative traits, we are also simultaneously beset with the energies of the 21st Century and its vibratory field of the 3 [ $2 + 1 = 3$ ], complete with its bevy of positive and negative attributes. Furthermore, each century contains sub-layers in the form of decades, decades have their years, years have their months, months have their days, days their hours, hours their minutes, and minutes their seconds. Clearly, life is a construct of layer upon layer upon layer of intertwining and interacting energies.

All of these varying layers and sub-layers comprise the energetic warp and woof of the fabric of our lives. When we understand these energies and how they relate one to the other, our ability to successfully manage our lives and destinies increases.

To apply this knowledge, we begin by addressing the positive and negative aspects of the millennium in question first, and then, using that as a baseline, integrate its energies with those of the century in question and its decades.

2nd Millennium Energies

Positive Traits: balance, caring on a personal level, controlled emotion, diplomacy, equilibrium, harmonious socialization, intuition, partnership, peace, positive relationship, support, tenderness, teamwork, togetherness.

Negative Traits: apathy, confliction, confrontation, deceit, dependence, discordant socialization, disequilibrium, division, hypersensitivity, imbalance, interference, lack of caring on a personal level, nefariously indirect action, negative relationship, passivity, separation, terrorism, treachery, uncontrolled emotion, war.

A casual observation of our world clearly reveals the confluence of the 2's energies in both positive and negative aspects. Unfortunately, because of the five hindrances that infest mankind (as taught by Saints and Masters) – ego, anger, greed, attachment, and lust – human beings, nations, and governments in general operate on the negative side of the 2 coin. Were the attributes of humility, forbearance, contentment, detachment, and chastity (antidotes to the five hindrances) adopted as a life expression both individually and collectively, the world would be a drastically different place, positively so.

21st Century Energies

Positive Traits: health and well-being, joy, happiness, uplifting thoughts and actions, edifying ideals, harmonious communicative skills, art, love of children and pets; stable, centered, confident persona; balanced individuals; friends and good times; entertainments.

Negative Traits: disease and lack of well-being, disrupted mental outlook, unhappiness, negative thoughts, banal ideals, vanity, narcissism; abrasive, acerbic, harsh, destructive language and communication skills; lack of tenderness and positivity toward children and animals; conflicted personal image, lack of wholeness and confidence, entitlement, superficiality; enemies, lack of friends and good times.

Interweaving

Having listed the composite traits of each number, we juxtapose and assess. The 2's negative energies are certainly visible in this world where ideologies, nations, and governmental bodies of all levels are divided more than ever before; global conflict and tensions continue to mount; anxiety, tension, and war are always present (unfortunately); imbalance wants for more centeredness; indirect action in the form of global terror continues to wax, not wane; unreasonably sensitive individuals and groups demand apologies for the slightest disparaging remark; deceit and treachery overwhelm honesty and virtue. These challenges and their lessons will be with men of earth until the end of the millennium – another 886 years from the time of this writing. For man to survive within the 2's energy field, he will have to grow beyond such negativities and manifest the positive aspects of the 2 – balance, peace, partnership, compassion, support, compromise, and fairness.

The energies of the 3 (from this 21st Century) are also quite apparent. As a major example, consider Obamacare in America. Its focus is supposed to be on health and well-being (3), but it is being hotly contested, unfavored by the majority of Americans because of the burden it imposes on an individual's right to provide for his own health care sans governmental interference, thus creating a further division and exacerbated confliction (2) between government, Congress, and the citizenry.

Entitlements are a massive issue globally. Greece, Spain, France, and America are all involved in entitlement issues. Dependence on the government is rising. This in stark contrast to the independent, courageous, resourceful, "I can do it myself and I neither need nor want any government help" spirit of the last millennium, that of the #1.

Another 3 issue is image of all kinds. Celebrity and personality worship outweigh substantive reflection. Many young people in America today can name their favorite actor, actress, singer, or star athlete but have no idea who the Founding Fathers were or the powerful principals that created America in order to insure its exceptionalism, freedom, and sovereignty.

Added to this is the propensity to invest inordinate time in playing games, chatting mindlessly, indulging in dangerous pursuits of pleasure, drugs, sex, and other sensual gratifications, as well as not paying enough serious attention to those principles which guarantee freedom – such as discipline, self-control, sacrifice, balance, courage, determination, steadfastness, independence, and virtue. Thus, a recipe for degradation is created, the fruit of which will neither be tasteful nor beneficial in creating wholeness, wellness, and happiness. All of this is due to a lack of vision and understanding of the fundamental law of this creation, i.e., cause and effect, karma. As Saint Dariya states: “The sower of the poison cannot but be engulfed in the poison.”

A mix of 2 and 3 energy is manifested in the explosive communicative aspect of our society via cell phones (social communication) but tragically hampered by them as well, with people choosing to communicate indirectly (negative 2) rather than face-to-face. Ironically, while people are becoming more socially intertwined, they are equally becoming socially dysfunctional. How many people hide behind their technology (indirect action) rather than being openly direct and engaging? Remember the television advertisement of the young woman breaking up with her boyfriend as she texts him the bad news while sitting across from him at a table in a restaurant? This concept of indirect action is commonplace throughout the world in all of its varying aspects.

Moving deeper into timeline layers, the earth is now in the Teen Years of the second decade of the 21st Century of the 2nd Millennium. The Teen Years encompass those years from 10 through 19, where every year begins with the energy of the 1, i.e., the ego, self, and identity. This 1 energy is activating individuals, nations, and governments to be self-centered. Think of how challenging the lives of teenagers are, totally consumed with themselves as they grow into maturity. This same energy is active now on the global stage and will be through 2019. When 2020 arrives, there will be greater emphasis regarding the concepts of others and relationship – attributes of the 2. Whether the relationship energy of the 20s decades will be positive or negative depends upon the level of consciousness of humanity en masse.

Unlike the 2nd Millennium energies, those of the 21st Century will terminate in 86 years, giving way to the vibrations of the 22nd Century. These will be much, much, different, and they contain a very real danger.

In closing, Guru Nanak's observation is quite germane: “In the web of its own actions is the whole world caught and it does not realize it.”

And one final poetic thought regarding the placement of personalities before principles...

AMERICA, SWEET SOUL

© 1998 by Richard Andrew King

America! America!
Sweet Soul, lift up your eyes.
Your love of personalities
portends of your demise.

Great men and women seeking Truth,
in search to quench their thirst, place principles on pedestals - not personalities first.

There was a time when you believed in Right, where virtue graces;
but now you're sacrificing all for the love of passing faces.

You worship Ease, not Principle.
Accept the base to lead you on.
Blinded by your biased greed,
you displace Right with Wrong.

America! America!
Sweet Soul, observe your deeds,
for they are the reflection of your prior, planted seeds,

seeds which yield fruit
exactly of its kind.
One cannot harvest oranges
after planting seeds of lime.

America! America!
Love principles chaste and pure.
Personalities will come and go,
but principles endure.

Times will go on changing with faces old and new.
Success, however, rests upon principles holding true.

Therefore, beware America!
Your legacy lies in knowing that the reaping of your future hangs on the seeds you're sowing!

The book highlights the profound and extraordinary ascent of the female in the modern world, placing her center stage in the global spotlight as presidents and leaders of nations, titans of industry, corporate executives, military generals, media magnets, doctors, lawyers and a whole host of other prestigious titles normally associated with the male.

Why has her rise to prominence been so rapid, especially in consideration of historic time? Why also has there been an increased interest in other people's lives in our society, an intensification in competitive athletics, personal data collection and the exploration of space and other worlds?
